

Tokyo Workshop on National Narratives of Global Integration

Venue: Main Meeting Room, 3rd Floor, Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia, The University of Tokyo

Day 1 (Friday 25th January 2019)

Morning (Moderator: Haneda)

9:30-10:25 Jeremy Adelman, Pablo Pryluka, and Laetitia Lenel, "Discovering the Periphery" (Stanziani)

10:30-11:25 Bao Maohong, "Three Chinese Politicians' national narratives of Global Integration and Their Influences on History Writing in China" (Houben)

Coffee Break

11:45-12:40 Andreas Eckert, Kerstin Stubenvoll and Fabian Krautwald, "Demanding Publics: Struggles over the Meaning of Work in late colonial East and West Africa" (Karp)

Lunch (12:40-14:00)

Afternoon (Moderator: Stanziani)

14:00-14:55 Marc Elie, "Renegotiating the Soviet Union: Soviet Central Asian elites and decolonization, 1950s-1970s" (Wheatley)

15:00-15:55 Haneda Masashi, "The Ambivalent Identity of 'Us Japanese' in the Global Context in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries" (Paulès)

Coffee Break

16:15-17:10 Vincent Houben, "Decolonization Narratives - Indonesia in the Global World, 1920s - 1960s" (Sano)

Reception at 18:00 (Sanjo Conference Hall, The University of Tokyo)

Day 2 (Saturday 26th January 2019)

Morning (Moderator: Eckert)

9:30-10:25 Matthew Karp, "'This Nation is a Globe': Narratives of Global Integration in the Nineteenth-Century United States" (Elie)

10:30-11:25 Xavier Paulès, "Going beyond the 'Western impact' narrative: China as a world power, 1850-1950” (Bao)

Coffee Break

11:45-12:40 Sano Mayuko, “To join "the warfare of peacetime": Japan's quest for national history through expos during the late 19th century” (Adelman)

Lunch (12:40-14:00)

Afternoon (Moderator: Adelman)

14:00-14:55 Alessandro Stanziani, “Backwardness and the Russian Case” (Haneda)

15:00-15:55 Natasha Wheatley, “The Boomerang of Imperial Sovereignty: Bosnia-Herzegovina in the Eye of the World Storm” (Eckert)

15:55- Wrap-up Session

Conference Dinner (Venue TBD)